TS BACK HER STOLEN JEWELS IN COURT-ROOM

Mysterious Person Called "Sam" Hands Them to Miss Liddy to Halt Prosecution.

by a strange young man only nown as "Sam" in the Tombs Court to-day in plain view of Magistrate Steinert and a score of detectives added another chapter to a mystery which Central Office sleuths are trying to Pritchett, of No. 411 West One Hundred and Fifty-fourth street.

Mr. Pritchett was formerly connected with a chain of five-and-ten-cent stores. According to Amelia B. Liddy, of No. 2387 Broadway, Pritcheit and Miss Tenny, who has an apartment at No. 101 West Eighty-eighth street, entered her flat yesterday afternoon, and while the two women were engaged at the selephone Pritchett took the jewels. "Sam" Makes a Plea.

Miss Liddy had Miss Tenny arrested. The case was called for this morning the mysterious messenger. entered the courtroom early and held long conversations with Miss Liddy He was pleading with her to withdraw the complaint against Pritchett, who cannot be found, and Miss Tenny, who was under arrest.

"I'll tell you about it later," she replied. "He's not a bad sort, anyhow. He's Miss Tenny's friend. I hated to have the dear girl arrested, but you know those diamonds are worth $2,700, and that's something."

Miss Liddy is a trimmer in a downtown store. The police declare there is a mystery back of the theft of the jewels. Both women are considerate of Pritchett. He is a married man with a family.

ALL THE FORCE

Telegraph Office, Quits When Boy Is Removed.

The "force" of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Stapleton, S. I. went on a strike to-day. The "force" used to consist of Miss Agnes Curies and a messenger boy, and it was the discharge of the latter half that impelled the former half of the 'force' walk out.

Miss Curley has been the operator of the Western Union in Stapleton for Cannot study and make proper adtwenty years; in fact, she claims to be one of the oldest operators-in point of service and from no other standpoint be sure to understand-in that neck of the woods. She has always had a messhe always needed one, as there is a good deal of telegraphing, especially in the early morning, at Stapleton. Therefore, when a message from the New ble. York office came tick-tacking over the wires this morning advising her to turn edrift the youth who had been carrying messages and doing the numerous chores around the office she arose on her dignity and took a stand that so far she hasn't retreated from.

"If I don't have a boy here, I leave," she tamped back. "That's all there is to it. If you folks think I am going to run up and down these hilly streets with a patent leather book stuffed full of yellow envelopes in my hand, and with the hot weather coming on, you're methyly mistaken. It's hot enough work taking some of the messages that come over to summer boarders in this town. First thing I know you'll be wanting sme to wear a uniform."

The upshot was that the Stapleton merchants who wanted to order groceries and other necessaries from New York by telegraph to-day found the office closed and all communication suswires this morning advising her to turn
